CITY & NEWS ITEMS. THURSDAY MORNING, SEPT. 16, 1858.

The Retirement of Mr. Giddings. The people of a Congressional district of course have the right to manage their own affairs in the manner they see fit.

The Newhall House, Milwaukee, is one of the largest and best conducted hotels in the United States. The building is a magnificent structure, and cost about two hundred thousand dollars.

Every comfort and convenience that legitimately belongs to hotel-keeping, is here provided, and the price of board is only ten dollars per day, the same as at ordinary hotels. Mr. Brown, who was my friend while at the Angier in this city, continues to hold the clerkship at the Newhall. See advertisement in another column.

CUTWATER COUNTY TEACHERS' INSTITUTE. According to adjournment the Teachers' Institute met at the Presbyterian Church in Solon, at 10 o'clock A. M., and in absence of the President, Mr. Samuel Patrick took the chair.

On motion, a Committee consisting of Mr. C. B. Lockwood, Dr. A. Harlow and Mr. Sydney Smith, were chosen to nominate officers for the ensuing year.

Adjourned. Vice President, Mr. Samuel Patrick, in the Chair. The Committee to nominate officers for the coming year then made the following report:

For President - STEVEN SMITH, Esq., of Bedford. Vice Presidents - One from each township. Secretary and Treasurer - Mr. A. J. Searles, of Newburg.

Executive Committee - Mr. S. PATRICK, of Solon, Mr. E. P. INGERSOLL, of Cleveland, Mr. H. W. GLASER, of Bedford. On motion, Messrs. H. S. Chamberlin, H. W. Glasier and Mr. E. P. Ingersoll, were appointed reporters for the city papers.

The following resolution was then adopted: Resolved, That it shall be the duty of the Vice Presidents to visit the schools in their respective townships, and report to the annual and semi-annual sessions the progress of schools in their townships.

Mr. Samuel Patrick was appointed critic of the proceedings of the Institute. The business relative to seating, etc., being disposed of, Mr. E. P. Ingersoll occupied some fifty minutes on the subject of Grammar, and was followed by Dr. Harlow, who gave an interesting lecture on the subject of Writing. Adjourned to meet at half-past 7 o'clock P. M.

Evening Session. The meeting was called to order by Pres. A. in the Chair. Mr. N. A. Gray, of Cleveland, was called upon, who, being an old teacher, struck us up a rare rash of his experiences, thrashing his boys and 'boarding' 'round', being included. The lecture was listened to with much attention throughout.

The Institute is well attended, and there is every indication of a pleasant session. We copy the following article from the National Era of September 7th. It is a complete and comprehensive history of the Perrys and will be valuable as a reference.

"THE PERRYS." Commodore Oliver H. Perry was born August 22, 1785, at South Kingstown, R. I. He entered the United States navy in 1799, and served in various offices till September 10, 1813, when, with the American fleet, (built, manned, and armed, under him, in little more than three months,) he made the famous victory of "Perry's Victory on Lake Erie." Commodore Perry was next engaged in the demolition of the British and Indian frontier, and in the performance of many other duties of a commanding officer, until his death, which occurred on the 23rd of August, 1819, in consequence of a fever, which he contracted in 1818, while in the United States Government, removed for final repose to Newport, R. I.

Commodore Perry attained an eminence rarely equalled, for capacity, heroism, and renown. Commodore Matthew C. Perry, (elder brother of Commodore O. H. Perry) was born at South Kingstown, R. I., in 1819, and served during the war with Great Britain; sailed in the Cyane in 1819 to the African coast, aiding the Colonization Society's endeavor for settlement near Sierra Leone, in 1821. He returned to the United States with her afterwards engaged in capturing pirates in the West Indies; until 1824, on duty in the Brooklyn navy yard; then ordered to the North Carolina, received promotion to officer of Commodore in the year 1830, and was in the recruiting service till 1830, when, with the Commodore, he sailed to Russia, thence making a three years cruise on the Mediterranean.

In 1838, he was commissioned vice Admiral, and ordered to the light-houses, dock yards, &c., in order to report of advantage to departments similar in the United States. In 1842, Commodore Perry proceeded in charge of the African squadron, and executed provisions of the Ashburton treaty. In March, 1846, he was sent as chief in command at the naval headquarters of Vera Cruz. In 1852, he sailed in command of the Japan expedition, and achieved that signal victory which has immortalized his name in the history of the world. In 1854, he was appointed to the command of the Japan expedition, and achieved that signal victory which has immortalized his name in the history of the world.

Commodore Perry was a man of head and heart. In 1858, Commodore M. C. Perry died aged 64, and was buried at New York city with every tribute of honor due the warrior and the patriot.

Commodore M. C. Perry leaves a widow and six children - three sons and three daughters. One of his sons is Consul at Hong Kong. Of the daughters, two are now married, (Mrs. John H. Bone and Mrs. August Belmont,) and one remaining single. The wife of the Rev. Dr. Vinton, of New York, is a niece of Commodore M. C. Perry. The death of Commodore M. C. Perry reduces the Perry family, contemporaneous with the Rev. Dr. Vinton, to one person, the Rev. Dr. G. R.
